As an Electrical System Officer (ESO), I declare that I am qualified at the 2E/3E level, as outlined in DGUV 209-093, or through equivalent training.

I accept full responsibility for overseeing the safe and proper execution of all tasks involving high-voltage systems within my team. My duties include conducting or delegating risk assessments, verifying compliance with safety regulations, and implementing technical safety measures to mitigate electrical hazards. I am trained to anticipate potential hazards such as electrical shocks, fires, or other risks, and to take decisive preventive and corrective actions when needed.
